

Ashley Malmlov Biography 2013

Biography

Ashley Malmlov is a Microbiology Resident and pursuing her PhD in virology within Colorado State University's department of Microbiology, Immunology and Pathology. She graduated from Metropolitan State College of Denver in 2005 and went on to gain employment with The Wild Animal Sanctuary, working with captive bred large carnivores. In 2008 she began vet school and graduated with her DVM from Colorado State University in 2012. Ashley has a special interest in wildlife and emerging diseases.