

---

Devin Von Stade Biography 2014

Originally from Maine, Devin moved to California 7 years ago to attend Pitzer College. He stayed in California to work in a small animal practice and now to pursue his DVM at UC Davis. Currently in his second year there, Devin's focus is on one health field studies directed toward international development. He is particularly interested in the progress of cost effective field diagnostics