
Bio:

I did my D.V.M from Madras Veterinary College, India and I joined PhD in 2010 at Purdue University, College of Veterinary Medicine. My current research is focused on the development of new therapies for bacterial infectious diseases. I am also a teaching assistant for senior D.V.M student for microbiology block and hoping to finish my graduate program by 2015.

Photo: